BALL VASES

The ball vase has become the heart of our vase collection, with its organic, stylish, soft look and feel. The vase is hand made and hand painted so that every piece feels unique and special. The surface is matt & silky soft which usually is the first comment a new owner makes when holding the vase, they simply don't want to put it down.

The ball vase comes in a huge mix of colors and sizes, where all varieties are designed to match each other perfectly. Thanks to the different sizes it is always easy to find a spot in your home or office to place a ball vase.

COLOURS AVAILABLE THIS SEASON

Colours: White, Shell, Sand, Blush, Cafe au Lait, Coconut, Peanut Grey, Black & Olive

All colours are not available in all sizes. Please refer to pricelist for more details.

VASES

The Pillar vase collection is a natural design progression from our popular Ball vase, where we have added other dimensions to the mix.

The Pillar vases is perfect to mix with ball vases to create interesting and harmonizing groups, while it also justifies its own place as a stileben.

The matt surface of the Pillar vase is hand painted with a soft silky surface.

The vases in this two collections are hand made which makes them all excitingly unique.

Hanna Heino

Hanna Heino is a Finnish artist dedicated to contemporary ceramics and abstract paintings. She is known for her delicate form language and the essence of her artwork is to honor the beauty and subtle nuances of nature and its organic textures, shapes and depth.

After working fifteen years within the various fields of interior design and residential construction she established her own artistic studio in 2019 and has been devoted to her art since then. She first started exploring with ceramics and classical painting in her childhood and ever since creativity has been a core element in her life.

The artworks take shape and grow organically with time and with her fascination for clay, authentic materials and all that which cannot be easily put into words. "My work reflects the constantly evolving organisms and soft subdued shades that I experience. The refined tones and shapes that are a characteristic of clay, give vibrancy to the final piece, while creating a sense of naturalness and effortless approachability."

Through her art, Hanna aims to form the inner landscape visible and express the multifaceted layers of joy that freedom of creating and nature bring. The Essence of what her work stands for is sensitivity, refinement, peace, subtlety and silence. Her original artworks are represented by international galleries and her pieces are seen in public spaces and private residencies worldwide.

"The ocean life underwater is an endless inspiration with all its mystical, silent liveliness which we cannot experience in our everyday life. The isla vase reminds us of the world beneath the surface. Hanna created the textural, soft looking surface for the raw material at early stages of her career and it has been an essential part since then. Each small shape is pressed one by one with hands on the original ceramic pieces. The surface is combined with the oceanic form of the vase. The piece is designed to carry your favorite flowers or to be used as a sculptural object." - Artist Hanna Heino

"Wandering in nature and collecting branches, stones and getting impressions of purity and calmness is reflected in subtle Fungi sculptures. The sculptures revolve around effortless organic forms. Ongoing dialogue between the surfaces creates a sense of seeing morning dew dropping to the ground from the plants' edges. The early moment when the sun hasn't risen yet and the magical tranquility and quietness surrounds us is captured in the pieces. The shades of the sculptures are taken from the ground and the calming tone palette connects us deeply into our roots; they bring a breeze of vitality indoors." - Artist Hanna Heino

*Tim Torp Hansen
Five Seven*

In early 2020, architect Tim Torp Hansen started studio 5'7. Located in Copenhagen with the motto that good design is always a good mix of the past, present and future. The studio is known for its ability to design with a fine balance between aesthetics, quality and surprise at a higher level.

With inspiration from the sailing world and its knots, Tim created a simple, but complex, geometric shape: the Eternity Knot. The desire to design a timeless object with a fine balance between the neatness of the candles and the weight of the knot of ceramics. A beautiful, sculptural object even when the candles are not lit. Lykke One and Lykke Three complement the new Cooe collection well - timeless, useful design in a sophisticated vintage.

GRY SERIES

Rich in detail, the Gry vases are elegant sculptures that elevate the flowers and water placed inside and play with the daylight in its structured surface and color.

The candleholder takes the light from the wick lit inside and turns it into a beautiful pattern projected onto the surface on which it stands.

The inspiration for the shape comes from the trunk of trees. Starting from the ground you can see the beginning of the roots before turning more round in shape further up.

Gry, meaning dawn in Danish, has different word associations, as it is also a play on the word "gro" which means "to grow".

DRIFT

“The nature around us is constantly shaped by the elements. From the major changes through the ice ages to weather’s daily impact on a mountain birch and sand on a beach. Soft lines and organic forms are created. Even a seemingly straight horizon has a slight curve. In our homes, we are surrounded by straight lines and digital surfaces, so a soft shape on an object can be a welcoming and comfortable place to rest our eyes.”
