A FRAME OF COMFORT

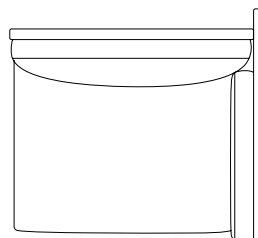

Softy Modular Sofa is a celebration of comfort, designed with an inviting, airy softness that is both visual and physical. Built around a minimalist frame, the sofa consists entirely of plush cushions - back, seat and armrests - creating a deeply comfortable and enveloping seating experience. Fully upholstered even down to its legs, Softy has a seamless, gentle expression that complements any interior.

The design is rooted in contrasts: a structured outer frame meets the generous, cloud-like softness of the cushions. This juxtaposition highlights both elements - precision and comfort - while offering a sense of enclosure that feels like its own room within a room. The modular construction allows for customization, with six different module types that can be easily connected via discreet connecting hook brackets, making it adaptable to various spaces and needs. With a balance of Danish and Japanese design influences, Softy is a refined addition to modern living spaces, inviting you to sit back and sink into its inviting comfort.
